

RETIREMENT OF ALDRICH AND HALE WILL END OLD AUTOCRACY IN SENATE

SEE POWER GONE SO BOTH RETIRE

They, Alone, Remain of the Old Regime when Great Combination Ruled with a Word

— BURDEN NOW IS TOO GREAT

Fought at Every Turn, the Warhorses of Money Power will Leave Losing Fight to Others

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.—For the first time in many long years the United States senate today faces a new deal from another deck. Senators who bore with complete impunity the responsibility of the Spanish war and the important legislation of a decade were all but dazed today following the announcement that Aldrich and Hale would pass from their ranks. Their influence has been so dominant that their colleagues could scarcely realize the effect of their retirement when the first news came in the United States dispatch from Providence yesterday. Almost any other half dozen senators might have dropped out without causing as much commotion.

It seemed from the excitement in the senate itself was going out of existence.

Foresaw Defeat

This is true because the passing of Aldrich and Hale means the dawning of a new era in the senate. It marks the end of the old autocratic rule, whereby a few men have dictated the course of legislation.

Among many senators the opinion is held that Aldrich and Hale are retiring because they see the end of their power. In the old days Aldrich would give his curt demands and have them obeyed without question.

A decade ago the coteries who ruled the real senate was invincible. When Allison, Aldrich, Hale, Hanna, Hart, Quay and Spooner were working together, there was nothing to withstand their influence. Death claimed Allison, Hanna, Platt and Quay. Spooner resigned to practice law. That left the leadership with Aldrich and Hale. They put through the tariff bill but the increasing resistance of independent senators made the burden too heavy to bear.

Means New Regime

The passing of Aldrich means that the committee on committees, which names the members of the committees, will be reorganized. The steering committee also will pass under new control. While the changes will not go into effect until the next congress meets, a year from next December, there is lively speculation as to the new leader of the conservative element in the senate. Senator Lodge (Mass.) by reason of his prominence and long service will naturally be considered for the place if he is then in the senate. He is a candidate for re-election and is encountering strong opposition. Senator Root of New York is also considered.

Hall Ready to Quit

Though announcement that Senator Hale will not be a candidate to succeed himself was news today to his colleagues in the senate, a few of his confidential friends had known it several days. Hale is ill at his home here. He is 74 years old. To one of his friends a few days ago he is reported to have said: "Some men tell me I will find myself very lonely out of the senate. They do not know me. There are many things I would like to do—things I would enjoy doing. These why should I remain here and fight when my activities bring so much censure?"

Hale's friends declare there was no real doubt of his re-election. He admitted that he would have been forced to go through a hard campaign. His physicians advise against it.

Health First Consideration

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.—The duties of the leadership of the senate are no slight task and I have begun to feel the strain," declared Senator Aldrich in a statement to the United Press today, in which he assigned "length of service and a desire to conserve his health" as the cause of his determination to retire.

Aldrich worked like a school boy this afternoon over a letter to be sent to Governor A. A. Pothier, of Rhode Island, formally announcing that he will not be a candidate for re-election. The letter was drafted over and over again.

Aldrich refused to discuss the report that the growth of the insur-

TWO TRAINMEN HURT IN WRECK

Northwestern Engine and Empty Coach Goes Into Ditch at Lytles During Night

ENGINE IS PARTLY BURNED

Special Coming to La Crosse for Sick Man for Rochester Meets Serious Mishap Near Here

The fireman and conductor of a special stub train on the Northwestern which was hurrying last night from Winona to La Crosse, to take a special sleeper containing an invalid to the Rochester, Minn., hospital, were hurt last night when the engine and coach went into the ditch near Lytles, fourteen miles north of here. Railroad officials profess to be in ignorance in regard to the cause of the wreck.

An invalid occupying a special sleeper came to La Crosse last night from Randolph, Wis., over the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, and the sleeper was to have been transferred to the Northwestern here and hurried through to the Mayo Brothers' hospital at Rochester, by the special engine sent here from the Winona Northwestern roundhouse.

Following the ditching of the train at Lytles the cab and tender caught fire and were burned. The engine was also badly demolished, while the empty coach was turned over and over. The engineer miraculously escaped injury.

A wrecking crew was also sent down from Winona and this morning got the locomotive back onto the track.

Neither Badly Hurt

The injured trainmen are Conductor Jacob Kieffer, Baraboo, Wis., and Fireman Harry A. Dove, Waseca, Minn. Both were taken to the Winona hospital but physicians declare today that they are not badly hurt and will both be able to leave the hospital tomorrow.

Agency in the senate had influenced his decision.

Money System Life Work

"I am going to remain in active co-operation with the national monetary commission in the work which it is doing to revise and reconstruct the currency system of the country. I have great hopes that we shall be able to accomplish something along these lines. I shall make it my life's work."

"As to my personal plans, I have none as yet. That is a subject, anyway, which belongs to me and which the public is not interested in."

Several of his followers in the senate called upon him today and urged that he should reconsider his determination, saying he should not retire in the present state of public affairs. To all of these he responded smilingly that his mind was made up and that his health had become the first consideration with him.

Hale Feared Defeat

AUGUSTA, Me., April 19.—Senator Eugene Hale retires because he fears defeat. This is the construction placed here today on the announcement that the veteran politician will not be a candidate to succeed himself. Already many leading republicans have announced their candidacy for the vacancy.

Judge Frederick Powers of Sault, head of the opposition to Hale, is the leading candidate out former Governor Wm. T. Cobb, John F. Hill, Edwin C. Burleigh, Herbert M. Heath and F. M. Shipman are avowed candidates.

Brayton to Name Successor

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 19.—In the hands of Gen. Charles R. Brayton, the blind boss of the republican party of this state, lies the future senatorship, is the view taken generally by politicians today following the general's exclusive announcement through the United Press yesterday of the forthcoming retirement of Senator Aldrich.

The man most prominently mentioned is Gov. Pothier, but it is expected that he will find a strong contestant in Col. Samuel P. Colt, the Newport millionaire who for years has had a hankering to wear the toga. Among possible candidates is former Governor Utter.

Brayton has thus far kept his own counsel.

Hale is Silent Too

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.—Senator Hale said today he had sent notice of his refusal to be a candidate for re-election to Byron Boyd, Augusta, chairman of the

MARJORIE GOULD TO WED IN SPLENDOR

Marjorie Gould, who weds Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., of Philadelphia, today, and two of her bridesmaids. The engagement of Miss Dorothy Randolph of Philadelphia, to John R. Fell of Philadelphia, was recently announced. Miss Margaretta Drexel, sister of the groom, will marry Viscount Maidstone this summer in an elaborate international wedding.

SEASON'S "CATCH" MARRIED AMERICAN

Marjorie Gould Today Keeps Promise to Father that She would Wed Own Countryman

NEW YORK, April 19.—When at 4 o'clock this afternoon, Marjorie Gould, beautiful daughter of Geo. Gould and the acknowledged "catch of the season," becomes the bride of Anthony Drexel, Jr., of Philadelphia, she will make good the promise made her father two years ago that it would be an American to whom she would give her hand and not one of the small army of titled foreigners, who, even before her debut, had designs on her hand—and the purse that hand controlled.

Coming in the wake of a series of weddings between American heiresses and titled foreign bankrupts, Miss Gould's choice of an American husband has struck a popular chord and this afternoon's ceremony in addition to being one of the most brilliant and lavish of this decade, is probably one of the most popular unions in New York's ultra-exclusive set.

The ceremony will be celebrated in St. Bartholomew's church on upper Madison avenue. Bishop Scarborough of New Jersey will officiate, assisted by Dr. Leyton Parks, rector of the church. After the ceremony the wedding party will return to the magnificent Gould mansion at Fifth avenue and 67th street, where a buffet collation will be served before the young couple starts on the honeymoon journey.

Thousands for Decoration.

The lavishness that marked the coming out party given her daughter by Mrs. Gould last fall, pervades the preparations for today's event. Thousands of dollars have been spent on floral decorations for the church and house, which have been turned into veritable bowers of pink and white roses with backgrounds of palms and green vines. The wedding presents and the bride's gifts to the bridesmaids are most magnificent.

Miss Vivian Gould, sister of the bride, who makes her debut next season, will be the maid of honor, and Miss Margaret Drexel, beautiful sister of the bridegroom, will be one of the bridesmaids. The remaining bridesmaids include some of the most beautiful girls of New York.

Elaborate Trousseau

They are Miss Hope Hamilton, a cousin of the bride Miss Marjorie A. Curtis, Miss Beatrice Claflin and Miss Elsie Nicol.

The bride's gown is of white satin charmeuse, cut in long flowing princess lines. She will wear an overdress of white chiffon embroidered with orange blossoms and a long train, also embroidered with the wedding flower. The tulle veil which falls below the bottom of the skirt, is fastened with a spray of orange blossoms and the bridal bouquet is composed of these blossoms and white roses.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids will wear gowns of delicate pastel shades. The frocks of the bridesmaids will be of pale blue satin, veiled in blue and pink chiffon.

SOCIALISTS TAKE MILWAUKEE REINS

Mayor Emil Seidel Gives Outline of the Policy of His Administration Today

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 19.—Mayor Emil Seidel, the new socialist executive of Milwaukee made the following statement to the United Press today just before he took the oath of office.

"We won't run away with ourselves. In the natural order of things we will move quietly until we get our hand in. Then we shall see that the people get some conveniences they need."

"You will see in the socialist administration of Milwaukee affairs a curiosity in American politics—an office-holder in his shirt sleeves working as hard for the city as an employee of a private business does for his employer."

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 19.—The social democratic municipal ship was launched this afternoon when the democratic administration of Mayor David S. Rose stepped out and the cohorts of socialism led by Emil Seidel took charge instead.

At 3 o'clock the new alderman with five holdovers took their seats in the council chamber. Twenty-one were socialists and fourteen others were divided between the republicans and democrats. City Clerk Edwin Hinkel called the council to order and Alderman E. T. Melms, who has served in the council for 8 years, socialist, was elected chairman. The

LUMBER COMPANY SAFE IS CRACKED

Office of Brittingham and Hixon Lumber Company at Sparta Robbed Last Night

About 1:30 o'clock this morning burglars entered the offices of the Brittingham and Hixon Lumber company at Sparta and blew open the safe obtaining about $7 in cash and then made their escape. Neighbors heard the explosion and ran out doors. A Mrs. Reed, living on the opposite side of the street, saw two men running away from the building after the explosion occurred. This morning when employees appeared at the office they found the safe door blown off, the windows broken and the interior of the building in a state of disorder.

An attempt was also made to rob the office of the Sparta Iron Works, but nothing was stolen there, although entrance was gained to the building by removing a pane of glass from the front door. There is no clew to the robbers.

OIL KING WON'T WELCOME TEDDY

NEW YORK, April 19.—"When Teddy comes marching home in June," there will be one familiar figure missing from the welcome. John D. Rockefeller will have no part in the reception. He said so himself today. When asked if he would aid in welcoming Roosevelt he said:

"Hardly! Hardly! You know I am not very popular with the mighty hunter. There is no telling how fierce he is, now that he has had opportunity to kill all manner of wild animals in Africa."

Asked if he was going abroad this summer, the oil king said, jestingly: "Not this year, the cost of living is too high."

CALL STRIKES "TROUBLE"

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 19.—An amendment striking from the constitution of district No. 5 of the United Mine Workers the word "strike" and inserting "trouble" instead was adopted at the convention here today. The change is a move on the part of labor organizations to get away from all references to strikes.

TEDDY A DRAWING CARD

PARIS, April 19.—The secretary of the university of Sarbonne announced today that the tickets for the Theodore Roosevelt lecture have been exhausted and that it would be impossible to meet the "carloads of requests" that are received daily. Holders of tickets are being offered fancy prices for them.

BRIBE CASE FINISHED

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 19.—The taking of testimony in the trial of Former Councilman M. L. Swift, Jr., charged with accepting a bribe, has been completed and the state opened its argument this afternoon. The case will probably go to the jury late today.

FINANCIAL AID FROM BIG FUND GIVEN HACKNER

Directors of Industrial Association Votes to Make Him a Loan of $7,000

ASSIST IN BUILDING PLANT

Board of Trade Is Now in Possession of the Hackner Lots on Ferry Street

The La Crosse Industrial association has given aid to the first local industry since the raising of the $100,000 by voting to loan the E. Hackner company $7,000 to be used in completing the large brick factory now in course of construction on the corner of Second and Cameron avenue. At a meeting of the directors of the association at the La Crosse club it was decided to make this loan which will be returned with interest at a later day. The directors also took over the contract of the board of trade by which the board paid Mr. Hackner $2,000 for the property on Sixteenth and Ferry streets, upon which it was first proposed to erect the factory. This amount, added to the $7,000, makes a total of $9,000 turned over to the Hackner company.

It is proposed to complete the new building as soon as possible. Two stories have been finished and within the next few weeks it will be under cover.

Help Another Concern

The Industrial association directors have also voted to take $10,000 worth of preferred stock in another La Crosse manufacturing institution, the name of which was not given out for publication. This concern is floating $100,000 worth of preferred stock, but in view of the fact that this amount is selling very rapidly, the $10,000 of the Industrial association may not be required. Up to yesterday $90,000 had been raised and it is expected that the balance will be subscribed within a few days.

Other Matters

The directors of the association are considering three other manufacturing propositions, two of which promise to develop into the erection of new plants. H. J. Hirschheimer and George Zeisler have been appointed as a subcommittee to act with the secretary in one of the matters and L. F. Easton and H. J. Hirschheimer in the other.

Secretary Utermoehl announces that the second assessment of 15 per cent of the stock subscribed will be expected to be paid in by May 15.

REEL CANDIDATE, A REAL PROGRESSIVE

Herman Reel, the Milwaukee wool broker, announces in a circular letter that he proposes to become a democratic candidate for the gubernatorial nomination. His candidacy is tentative, he says, his final action to turn upon his later opinion as to whether the stalwarts are about to succeed in taking advantage of the split up condition in the progressive republican ranks to nominate their man, and then to eliminate the possibility of a democratic progressive governor "by foisting some platoonist upon the democratic party, so as to kill with one fell swoop the Wisconsin idea in its own home."

REGINA TEAM OUT ON BALL GROUNDS

Promptly at 9 o'clock this morning Manager "Roxie" Walters led his Regina ball players to a street car and headed them out to the League park, where they put in several hours of light preliminary work. The grounds were slightly wet, but the men worked out under this handicap in the best manner possible. In the meanwhile the La Crosse recruits were working indoors at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium under the tutelage of Joe Safford. Four more men have reported for the local team and it is expected that they will be out on the grounds in a few days.

TEDDY TO GET FINE STEED

BUDA PESTH, April 19.—Col. Roosevelt today went to Bahlola, two hours distant from Buda Pesth to inspect the only Arabian stud farm in Europe. The proprietor of the farm told the colonel he would show his appreciation of the honor done him by sending the colonel the finest steed on his farm.

The weather cleared today and the Hungarian populace, driven indoors by yesterday's storm, again crowded the streets and cheered every appearance of the colonel.

Meets American Heiress.

At the farm the colonel met Count and Countess Szechenyi, nee Gladys Vanderbilt. Two hundred prominent guests were present, all of whom took luncheon at the country palace. Roosevelt then spent an hour in driving over the estate.

The start for Paris will be made at midnight.

FATES FAVOR DR. HYDE; IMPORTANT WITNESS IS DEAD

Dr. Twyman Expires After Operation and State Must Convict on Circumstance

DEFENSE ALLEGES MALICE

Attorney Says Charges Are Based Upon Foul Suspicions and Envy of Interested

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 19.—Bearing in mind the old adage "dead men tell no tales," the defense in the case of Dr. B. Clark Hyde, charged with the murder of Col. Thomas H. Swope, manslaughter in the death of Moss Hutton and attempted poisoning of the entire Swope household today followed the teachings of the adage when Attorney Frank P. Walsh in his opening address to the jury declared that Dr. Hyde was not responsible for the bleeding of Moss Hutton which the state claims caused his death.

Dr. George T. Twyman, the aged practitioner who died last night was the man in charge of the bleeding, declared Walsh. The attorney branded every allegation made by the state as false, "based upon evidence of paid detectives" and springing from malice and envy.

Calls Bleeding Proper

Continuing Attorney Walsh said: "The veins of Moss Hutton were surcharged with blood. At the suggestion of Dr. Twyman Dr. Hyde made the incision. The blood did not come fast enough and Dr. Twyman tied a band around the arm so that the flow might be greater. A string was tied to the artery so that the blood might be stopped at any time, and, gentlemen, it was Dr. Twyman who held that string, and who could have stopped the flow of blood at any time. Mrs. Hyde will take the stand and tell you there was no remonstrance at the bleeding and that everything was done at the direction of Dr. Twyman. The bleeding of Hutton was not to slay him but to save his life."

Attorney Walsh began his address with a recital of Dr. Hyde's early life, pointing to his aged father who has occupied a place in the courtroom continuously. He claimed Col. Swope was in the habit of becoming intoxicated every day up to within a year of his death when he began taking a strychnine tonic.

Denies Many Charges

"He was physically broken down. He predicted an early death," Walsh declared, "and locked himself in his room, and remained there an eccentric, choleric old man. Dr. Hyde procured the digestive tablets for him which were only the pulverized pancreas of animals."

Walsh denied that Col. Swope's nurse had been ever asked by Dr. Hyde to use her influence to have him appointed administrator. He declared that Dr. and Mrs. Hyde will deny on the stand that Mrs. Logan Swope or Tom Swope were in the house the night before Colonel Swope died. Mrs. Hyde, he said, was present at the death of both Hutton and Swope and Mrs. Swope did not enter the rooms until later.

Dr. Hyde's treatment of both cases was professionally proper he declared.

Hydes to Take Stand

The announcement that both Dr. and Mrs. Hyde would take the stand created a sensation in the court and Attorney Walsh declared he would show just how "honest" the physician had been.

The presence of cyanide of potassium was professionally proper he declared.

THE EASTERN OUTLOOK
With the western view of the national political situation conceded to be "insurgent," the eastern feeling continues to be watched with greater interest because, until recently, it was more an unknown quantity. It is almost amusing to note in an editorial from the Wall Street Journal the conviction that republican insurgency is right, coupled with expression of that fear which has become a superstition in the east, of the dreaded Nebraska, William Jennings Bryan.
The Journal feels that standpatism has jeopardized the success of the republican party, and in the same breath suggests that democratic opportunity rests upon the ability of that party to shelve Bryan and get another Moses. Inconsistent as this may be, so far as the parallel of principles involved is concerned, the paper doubtless voices the sentiment of eastern democrats as closely as it does that of eastern insurgent republicans. The article to which reference is made follows:
"The republican party is facing a more serious probability of defeat than has been the case for fourteen years. It is by no means certain, of course, that the party leaders will not be able to save the presidency in 1912, even if the house of representatives is lost this autumn. Practically, however, the history of the country since the civil war has shown that a party defeated in the middle of a presidential term has met defeat in the succeeding presidential election.

"This was substantially the case after the great democratic victory in the congressional elections of 1874, when Mr. Tilden in 1876 carried the doubtful northern states. It was the case again after the republican defeats of 1882, which were followed in 1884 by the first election of Mr. Cleveland. It was the case again, when the revolution against the McKinley bill in 1890 was followed in 1892 by the second election of Mr. Cleveland. It was the case again when the revolt against the Gorman-Wilson law of 1894 almost wiped out democratic representation from the north and was followed by democratic defeat in 1896. The only exception to the rule was the elections of 1878, which returned a meager democratic majority of about twenty, but did not prevent the election of Garfield by a narrow margin in 1880.

"With the purely partisan aspects of these matters this newspaper is not concerned. Whether an official is labeled republican or democrat seems to matter little if he pursues sound and conservative policies. The question to be confronted by the business community is whether democratic success means disturbance to business and, if so, whether business sentiment can be rallied against it. It can hardly be denied that since the capture of the democratic organization by the followers of Mr. Bryan in 1896, democratic success under his leadership has been generally regarded as a menace to business security. The difficulty has been not entirely in the actual program of the Bryan organization, but in the desertion from the party of many of those who acted as a balance-wheel to its more radical tendencies and who supported the reformatory policies of Mr. Cleveland.

"Many of these men, especially those who were not bound by active political obligations to the democratic organization, have become so wedded to the habit of voting for republicans that they are practically members of that party. Their influence, therefore, cannot be counted upon to exert a sobering effect upon a triumphant democracy unless they can be persuaded to take their old places in the party ranks. It is to their leadership, however, that it would be necessary for the party to look if it wished to avoid another campaign on the part of the republicans, making to the business community the appeal of self-preservation which was so effective in 1896, 1900 and 1908."

A HOME IDEA OF ALDRICH
A home picture of Senator Aldrich, whom a Taftism makes "manager of the United States," is given at close range by a home paper, the Providence Evening Bulletin, as follows:

"The more thoughtful citizens of this politically backward state cannot help feeling that the greater the talent for leadership which Mr. Aldrich possesses and exercises the more responsible is he for its subject servitude which he has never moved a hand nor spoken a word to remove or even to lighten. The oligarchical constitution which makes the small country town the master of the legislature has assured Mr. Aldrich, through his alliance with Brayton, the immediate boss of that body, a life tenure of his senatorial office, and it is impossible to not regard that distinguished statesman's indifference to the cause of reform at home as an expression of cynical and indefensible selfishness. If Senator Aldrich has failed to do his duty in Rhode Island his professions of devotion to the welfare of the whole nation cannot, in spite of their apparent sincerity, be taken at their face value; neither can he rightfully lay claim to the credit that they would bring him were he a faithful servant of his constituents."

ALERTNESS NECESSARY
The fight over the seat in the United States senate now held by Robert M. La Follette is begun. An opposition candidate has entered the field.

The result of the contest will be determined, not in the primaries, but in the legislature. It will not suffice for those who believe in progressive ideas to vote for La Follette in the primaries and to induce others to vote for him. This is necessary, but it is only part, and not the larger part of the work which is to be done.

There is no reasonable doubt that La Follette will carry the primary and by a big majority. If his opponent should be the choice of the primary there is every likelihood that the legislature will carry out the will of the people. In the absence of fraud, La Follette and his friends would accept an adverse decision. But his enemies will try to move heaven and earth to elect a legislature that will pay no heed to the primary choice if it should fall upon La Follette.

In a way the recent decision of the state supreme court in the primary law case will give aid and comfort to the opposition. Not that this decision really changes the situation, for while it declares that the vote of the people cannot, under the federal constitution, be binding upon the legislature, but is simply advisory, this has been the understanding right along. The decision simply emphasizes the fact that the members of the legislature have the constitutional right to do as they please regardless of the primary and the votes of the people.
This makes it necessary for right-thinking men to see to it that the candidates for the assembly and the state senate whom they support shall, beyond the possibility of doubt, stand from first to last for the choice of the primary. The mere promises of political self-seekers will not be sufficient guarantee of this. No candidates should re-

IMPORTANT TO ALL WOMEN READERS OF THIS PAPER

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.
Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.
If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.
You may suffer a great deal with pain in the back, bearing down feelings, headache and loss of ambition.
Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes anyone so.
But thousands of irritable, nervous, tired and broken down women have restored their health and strength by the use of Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy.
Swamp-Root brings new life and activity to the kidneys, the cause of such troubles.
Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy will do for them. Every reader of this paper, who has not already tried it, may address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and receive sample bottle free by mail. ceive support from Progressive and independent voters unless they are men of character, men honest enough to keep their word.
The legal aspect of the situation will no doubt strengthen the movement for a constitutional amendment providing for the election of United States senators by popular vote.
In its political aspect the situation calls for the exercise of the utmost watchfulness and intelligence in nominating and electing members of the legislature, to the end that the chicanery that will surely be attempted by the System shall meet with defeat.—Milwaukee Journal.

Every Cannon-Aldrich-stand-pat-Money-Power satellite will be a "friend of the people," until after the primaries; but the long-suffering "people" are getting wise to the game.

We are informed by one of our contemporaries that the icy north wind swept down upon us "like a withering blast from a furnace." Charlie must live in a flat.

Can it be the declination of Aldrich and Hale to seek re-election is an admission of "the handwriting on the wall?"

NEW MAJESTIC BILL
The feature act of the new bill at the Majestic theater this week is the Four Rio Brothers who style themselves America's Premier Gymnasts. They fully live up to the good reputation that has preceded them. Last week they enthused Milwaukee. The brothers carry with them an interesting collection of programs showing that they have appeared at such houses as The Pavilion and Hippodrome at London, the Scala at Hague, the Apollo at Vienna, Orpheum at Buda Pesth, the Alhambra at Paris and Circus Parish at Madrid and many others in Europe. Their act is not only one of the most difficult and most wonderful acts that has ever been seen here but it is a graceful and beautiful number showing the extent to which the human body may be trained.

"Birds of a Feather" a one act comedy with Miss Ethel Alton and her company is a laugh producer, presenting many complex situations. The act has a good plot and the acting of the members of the troupe

Muddy Hair.

From Naps in the Sand
A lady of the New York smart set had spent the summer at a remote seashore resort where the principal occupation of the select colony was reading or taking naps on the beach between dips in the surf. Her hair, which was originally a beautiful golden brown, came out at the end of the season a handsome mud color, without a particle of brilliancy or life. Then came daily visits to hair-dressing palaces to restore the lost color, and incidental experience with lotions, soaps, perfumes, pomades and ointments of different hues and odors, many of them costing several dollars a bottle. But the hair did not improve materially. None of the magic lotions seemed to be doing its intended work. About this time a school friend came from a distant state to pay a brief visit, and, learning of her friend's predicament, suggested trying that good, old fashioned remedy known as HAY'S HAIR HEALTH. And one single bottle of this time-tried preparation did more to restore the lost color of her hair than the hundreds of dollars she had spent in hair shops. HAY'S HAIR HEALTH is not a dye, instead it is a genuine restorative for the scalp and roots of the hair. Not only all druggists have it in 50 cent and dollar bottles, or it can be purchased from the manufacturers—Philo Hay Specialties Co., Newark, N. J., U. S. A.

has more merit than that of the average vaudeville performer.
Murray K. Hill, Edison's favorite monologist, is about the best in this line of vaudeville that has as yet appeared at the Majestic. As a dispenser of foolishness, nonsense and "dippy" ditties he is the premier of any that has appeared here. It was hard for him to retire last night. The audience was willing to have him remain for an hour or more, the act was so well appreciated.
Doyle and Fields present a neat singing and dancing act that will be a favorite during the week. Doyle is a past master of eccentric and faney step dancing and is as clever with his line of comic talk as he is performing.
The Peikin Trio, instrumentalists, are real southern colored gentlemen who know how to sing and play and needless to say they will be prime favorites with the large audiences. The act furnishes a welcome contrast to the other acts of the week.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES.
BY HERBERT QUICK
COPYRIGHT BY BOBBS-MERRILL CO.

The air-ship sank, sank, nearer and nearer to the water; but without waiting to earn how the girl was carrying out his orders, Carson again attacked the chain, and the shrill "screak" of the file greeted Virginia's ears again, as she turned the indicator, and threw on the power. As they had never done before, the great engines purred. The wing-blades trod the air with a terrific roar; but with remorseless suction-like force the submarine drew her down closer, closer to the water, and she seemed lost. The sinking was slower now; but nevertheless more and more the chain disappeared in the sea every moment. Virginia looked and despaired. The waves were so terribly near; death in their cold depths seemed so unthinkable horrible. . . . she bowed her face in her hands. The "screak, screak, screak" of the file kept on with the regularity of a machine. Carson was at work. He might be drowned; but when he went under, he would go fighting. He was a man! And suddenly Virginia felt herself strengthened and comforted. Death was due every one at some time. Why not now? Why whimper and shrink from what must be some time anyhow?
She stepped to the side, and called to him.
"I think," said she, "that we are doomed. Is there anything I can do?"
"You might advance the spark," said he. "Not much. Just the least trifle. . . . Yes, I reckon they've got us."
She sprang to the machinery, and did this last thing ordered by her commander—did it with unshaking hands, as a soldier might take up the weapon of his comrade killed at his post. By the faintest trifle she advanced the spark; and went to the side to see the effect. They were lower, now, and the truss-work in which Carson hung must be in or near the crest of the swell; but the "screak" of the file went on—not so strong, perhaps, but steadily still, the paeon of the unconquerable spirit of the man clinging to the truss-work beneath her. It was grand. It was immense. Her spirit rose to the occasion, rose to the prosaic "screak, screak" of a file in a hand that was dabbled in the waves at every lifting swell of the stolid ocean that rolled on just the same where its prey dangled within the lapping of its tongue, and out yonder where, perhaps, no man had been since creation's morn.
"Theodore!"
The file stopped for a minute.
"Keep her as she is," said he. "We've got the submarine stopped. I've got the chain about filed through—but I'm a little tired. Keep her as she is—for just a little while!"
Again the file began its work. The immediate danger was over; but both the man below and the girl in the car knew that the terrific consumption of gas in the engines made the seconds too precious for use in conversation. A minute's supply of gas, ten seconds' supply, one second's supply, might save their lives in the home stretch, when the chain should be filed through, and they should take their flight toward land—to make triumphant landing after this deadly peril, or to sink in the waves from which they were now fighting to save themselves. The roar of the machinery filled the air with tempest; the wind from the wing-blades driven down on the water set it boiling like a whirlpool; one moment the straining submarine drew them down by a link or two of the chain; the next the struggling air-ship lifted the submarine up an inch or so from her dark lair in the depths. At last, at the very height of the fierce struggle, the air-ship shot upward with the jingle of dropping chains, a worn file fell into the foam of a white-capped wave, and the girl leaped to the levers in obedience to the voice of Carson telling her to make haste, for God's sake, and set the wings for a forward flight; to cut the speed down one-third, and to steer straight for the shore.

She obeyed. They had risen to a height of perhaps two hundred feet before her inexperienced hands could change the propellers; and Carson told her to keep the height. She asked if she might not use a little higher speed, but he said no, economy in gas was in the moderate speed. "Keep her as she is," said he.
"Can you come up?" she asked. "Have you the strength?"
She asked this two or three times and got no reply. Suddenly she screamed with the fear that he had fainted, and as if aroused from a stupor he asked her to advance the spark a little, and, when she had done so, to retard it again.
"Are you in danger?" she asked. "Can you hang on?"
"I'm all right," said he, "only my hands. Can you see shore? Is it far?"
The shore was rising fast, she told him. It was not so very far, now, but the gas was almost gone. Could she do anything? Was there nothing to be done to eke it out so as to bring them a little closer before they fell into the sea? Could he do anything if he were in the car?
"Keep her as she is," said he. "When we get close enough so she can glide in, I'll lighten her."
"How lighten her?" she asked. "It's easy," said he, "from down here. Keep her as she is!"
The dunes lifted white in the sun, shimmering in the heat, swelling as the Virginia darted nearer and nearer to shore. The horror-stricken people on the beach saw her coming, like an albatross before a gale. The girl on the deck prayed fervently for the miraculous renewing of the little cruise of oil from which was made the gas that kept them up—and the man underneath hung on grimly, awaiting the cessation of stroke, which would prove that the mixture which was the breath of the life of the great engines was exhausted at last. Once, twice, thrice, came the halting in the machinery that was the death rattle of the motors.
"Virginia!" said he.
"Yes," she replied.
"Fix the gliding mechanism! The gas is done!"
"Yes, Theodore!"
"Turn her nose down a little. With momentum enough, she'll make it from here. And when she gets within those breakers, if she is less than twenty-five feet high, tilt her up again a little. Do you understand?"
"Yes! I'll do it! Anything more, Theodore?"
"No—only remember what you said about forgiving me, if I'd let you come with me. Remember, turn her prow up a little when she nears shore. You'll make it, dear—you'll make it!"
Mrs. Graybill, standing on the shore, noted with the rest the new motion of the air-ship when the engines were stopped, and wondered why it behaved so queerly; and it was her eye alone that detected a man's form clinging to the truss-work under the car. This, she thought, was the person they had tried to rescue. She wondered when she saw the girl managing the machinery, which was so operated as to send the aeronaut on a long, long, swift swoop down toward the land. In across the line of breakers she came, the very swiftness of her descent making for her peril, as she neared the waves.
And then Mrs. Graybill screamed. She had seen the man under the car deliberately let go his hold and drop into the water. The lightened car, tilted slightly upward now, as Virginia obeyed orders, soared slowly onward, rising a little as her momentum brought the great gliding surfaces against the air, and then, clearing the foam of the surf, she softly settled on the sand, with her stern rudder, like the tail of a great dead bird, washed by the hungry waves which she had, as by a miracle, escaped. And rowing in from the offing where he had gone in his fishing boat in the wild and improbable belief that he might help his master, came Captain Harrod, with a white-faced young man lying in the bottom of the boat, whose fingers dripped blood from the remorseless work of the file; while from the air-ship they took the senseless form of a girl who had risen above the fear of death, and by sheer pluck had brought the Virginia into port.

CHAPTER XIV.
A Capture and an Escape.
"Allow me to suggest," observed Craighead, as the gentlemen of the party at Harrod's fishing camp sat in lounging attitude on various articles used as chairs, mostly jetsam and flotsam of the Gulf, "that in perfecting the first really practicable flying-machine, we have set in motion social and economic reactions that will go on and on far beyond the ken of those who, unlike myself, have not made a specialty of them. As that submarine dragged the Virginia out to sea yesterday, we all thought it was the last of Carson, M. A., didn't we?"
"It looked bad to me," said Mr. Waddy.
"Ah sho' thought," observed Captain Harrod, "that Miste' Theodo' an' Miss V'ginny had gone off together to stay."
Mr. Carson, sitting on a cost-up half-barrel, picked at his bandaged fingers, embarrassed.
"I didn't see much hope for escape," said he.
"There wasn't any," replied Craighead. "Your escape is due to your lack of logic, fair knight. Any one with a lick of sense would have seen and accepted the inevitable. But that's another work of fiction. I am endeavoring to point out while breakfast for seven gets itself with utensils for two, that the fertile and fecund mind gets hints of connotations rich with wealth and progress from the lowering brow of tragedy herself—the lowering brow of tragedy," repeated Craighead, as if to give the class a chance to note the phrase in their books.
Captain Harrod, to whom Craighead was an object of superstitious wonder, leaned away to gaze more fixedly into his face; and sat fascinated, with his fingers crossed, as Craighead went on with his practical suggestions.
"As to the Stickleback," went on Craighead, "if the Stickleback it was—"

WOODMEN PLAN FOR BIG PICNIC

Arrangements Made for Outing to Be Held in

La Crosse on June 9

The members of the Modern Woodmen of America held a meeting last evening at which plans were made for the big picnic to be held in La Crosse under the auspices of the Western Wisconsin Woodmen Picnic association on June 9. It is proposed to hold the outing in Pettibone park, providing the water is not too high and should the grounds be overflowed the event will be held in Myrick park.

B. F. Keeler, chairman of the committee on speakers, announces that he has completed arrangements to have Head Consul A. R. Talbot of Lincoln, Neb., and Supreme National Lecturer Charles E. Whelan of Madison, Wis., as the principal speakers.

In addition to this prizes will be offered to the drill teams and many organizations from the surrounding towns are already making preparations to participate in the contest. Other contests will also be held for the individual members.

FORMER LOCAL PASTOR IS DEAD

Rev. P. S. Davies, Presbyterian Minister, Dies at Pueblo, Colo.; Has Property in City

George B. Marvin, Jr., this morning received notification of the death of Rev. Peter Samuel Davies, Ph. D., a former Presbyterian pastor of this city at Pueblo, Colo., last week. Rev. Davies was about 70 years of age. No particulars of his demise have reached La Crosse.

Rev. Davies left this city about five years ago going to Pueblo where he has resided since. While residing in this city he conducted services at the branch of the Presbyterian church, which was located on Wood street. He owned considerable property in the city but disposed of most of it. At the time of his death he owned one lot of real estate.

Besides being a pastor, Rev. Davies some time ago invented a propeller for air ships which was expected to revolutionize the present style of propulsion.

THE "MAD MULLAH" ON THE WAR PATH

ADEN.—The fierce campaign of Mahomed Abdullah of Somaliland, the "Mad Mullah," against the Sultanates under British protection continues unchecked. Eight hundred of the tribesmen friendly to the Sultanates have been slaughtered, vast areas laid waste and towns razed. Natives in great numbers are fleeing to the coast. It is expected here that this will lead to another expedition against the "Mad Mullah," who has caused the British government great anxiety for many years.

DEBATERS GO TO SPARTA FRIDAY

Next Friday night, the annual debate between the La Crosse and Sparta high schools will be held at Sparta, the subject being "Resolved, that a graduated income tax would be a desirable modification of our federal system of taxation." The La Crosse team, composed of Jones, Mable and Tuteur, the first named being leader, have been working hard for some time, and are confident of downing their old foes, the same as they did here last year. With the exception of Ed Mable, both men on the local team have been in the Sparta debate before, and can be depended upon to do the same good work which they did in the past. However, they will meet worthy foes in the Sparta team, which is made up of Harry Hersch as leader, and Clyde Ewers and Chauncey Beebe. These lads are all good debaters, and can be depended upon to fight for their lost laurels, but the only advantage they have is that they will be speaking in their home town, and will be used to the surroundings.

When we see some women on parade we wonder how they get themselves unharnessed at night.

ALDRICH SEES HAND-WRITING ON WALL

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.—The utterance of General Brayton was accepted as reliable by Senator Lodge who said:

"The retirement of Senator Aldrich will be a great loss to the senate." It means a radical change in our present form of government," said Representative Murdock, the Kansas insurgent.

Generally the insurgents were jubilant. They considered Aldrich's move not to stand for re-election a recognition by him of the popular sympathy in the wave of insurgency.

HODGE BUYS FINE LIVERY EQUIPMENT

George R. Hodge, liveryman at Vine and Twelfth street, has without doubt the finest carriage equipment for the livery business to be found in any Wisconsin city outside the city of Milwaukee.

Yesterday he received over the Burlington from Chicago a new hearse, perhaps the most elaborate and costly ever seen here, a number of new and stylish carriages and an opera coach for palbearers. The new hearse is silver and grey in its trappings. A "vis-a-vis" fashionable rig for afternoon and evening driving for parties has also been purchased by Mr. Hodge. The seats are arranged so that the occupants face each other, and altogether the outfit is especially adapted for picnic use.

Mr. Hodge's stables hold the finest string of horses to be found, having been carefully selected by the owner.

WARNINGER-LAUTZ

Miss Alice Warninger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Warninger and Louis Lautz were married Saturday afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents, 1214 Ferry street, by the Rev. Julius T. Gamm of the German Lutheran church. The bridal party took their position in front of a bank of ferns, apple blossoms and bride's roses. During the ceremony Miss Ida Zeisler played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bride's maid of honor, and Miss Elsie Warninger, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Eleanore Zeisler was bridesmaid. George Lautz, brother of the groom, was best man, and Elmer Warninger, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. Very lovely the bride looked in her bridal gown of white Persian lawn, elaborately trimmed with German Bal lace. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride's roses. The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore light blue tissue and carried marguerites. The rooms were made beautiful and attractive by the lavish use of flowers and foliage. The bluster was garlanded with asparagus ferns and apple blossoms. Roses and carnations were used throughout the rooms, while drooping sprays of smilax fell in graceful festoons from the chandeliers. The bride's table was centered with a basket of apple blossoms, ferns and roses. Each small table was decorated with baskets of roses and violets, the effect being most attractive. Following the ceremony a reception was held from 7 to 9 o'clock, after which the happy pair left on the midnight train for Chicago, to be absent two weeks on their honeymoon.

The bride's father accompanied the couple as far as Chicago, from there going to New York from which place they sailed today for Germany. A coincidence of the wedding was that the father and mother of the bride were married twenty-nine years ago upon this date at Wabasha, Minn., April 16, 1881. Miss Bertha Hoeftle and August Lautz were married in the city.

Many handsome and elegant presents to the young couple were in evidence, testifying to the popularity of the young couple.

POSTOFFICE WORK AGAIN DELAYED

Work on the addition to the post-office building will probably be delayed several weeks before the foundation operations are started. The quality of brick to be used has not been decided upon some difficulty having been experienced in obtaining a brick to match in color that of the old building.

FIELD MEET IN CITY MAY 7TH

Four Schools and Y. M. C. A. will Compete in Match Preceding the Big Meet May 21

On Saturday, May 7, the first field meet of the local season will be held on the high school campus, with the high school, normal and agricultural schools, the W. B. U. and the Y. M. C. A. competing.

Although this contest will decide no championship, it will serve to try out the material and give the men a chance to show their worth. It is expected that a great many of the former high school stars will be entered, and with these men in, the high school will have to work hard to win.

No admission will be charged to this meet, and it is hoped that a large number will avail themselves of the opportunity to see a fine contest.

Fifty Schools Invited

The big interstate track meet held here under the auspices of the local high school for the past two years will be held on May 21 this year. Invitations have been sent to over fifty schools in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa by John Young, manager of the team, and it is expected that this will prove one of the best attractions ever brought here. Only the strongest and most representative teams of the sections have been asked to attend, and local people will have a chance to see the best track men to be procured. A great deal of money has been spent for medals for winners of points, and these mementos are among the best ever given at the local meet. La Crosse will bend all efforts towards capturing first place this time, as they succeeded in getting it two years ago, and lost it by only one-third of a point last year.

W. B. U. is making a tremendous record.

Demand for graduates is already in excess of the supply.

The school will soon be short of available office people.

Although the school year of the W. B. U. is within one month of the close, it is probable that every graduate will be in a position before the close of the school, May first. This is a wonderful record. Mr. Toland advises us that never before at this season of the year has the demand been so tremendous for his graduates. The work of the school this year has been the best in its history, and the enthusiasm shown by teachers and students unsurpassed.

The following is a list of students sent to positions the past month:

Edgar Samsch, Advance Bedding Co., La Crosse, Wis.

A. Mielke, C. M. & St. P. R. R., La Crosse, Wis.

Harry Tietz, C. M. & St. P. R. R., La Crosse, Wis.

FOUNDER OF CIVIC CENTERS TO COME

Edward J. Ward will Speak at Washington School in La Crosse Tuesday, April 26

Edward J. Ward, founder of the Rochester, N. Y., civic center system, which is being copied here, will be in La Crosse Tuesday, April 26, to attend the meeting of the Washington School Civic Center organization. He will lecture on his work and the civic center system in general and will have lantern slides to illustrate his talk.

E. S. Heberd, member of the program committee and one of the organizers of the trial of the system here, received a telegram from Mr. Ward this morning announcing he would accept the invitation to speak here. La Crosse is able to procure him because he is making a trip to Chicago and Milwaukee at this time, and he consents to come on through to this city. The committee is arranging to give him a rousing reception, as it is expected his lecture will be of great value to this city in the plans to extend the system. Mr. Ward holds the position of director of playgrounds and civic centers at Rochester.

Meeting Tonight

Tonight the general public is invited to attend the weekly civic center meeting at Washington school, Sixteenth and Vine streets. C. W. Dickinson of the La Crosse Plow company will deliver an address on the water proposition and there will be a varied program. The meeting will start at 7:30 and the first half hour will be devoted to "getting acquainted."

JOHNSON RESCUES INJURED AUTOISTS

CHICAGO, April 19.—Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, played the part of hero today when he rescued four persons who had been injured in an auto accident and were caught under the wreckage of their machine. One of the injured, Grace MacNamara, is in a serious condition. Two young women and two youths were riding in the car when it turned turtle in Jackson park. Johnson and his wife were riding in the pugilist's auto a short distance ahead and heard the crash. Johnson turned back and found the other car wrecked and its four occupants pinned under it. He called a fire truck company and when the victims were released, hurried them to a hospital in his own machine.

WILLIAM BRADLEY IS A CANDIDATE

William Bradley of West Salem has announced his candidacy for the nomination for sheriff on the republican ticket at the fall primaries. Other candidates who have announced themselves as candidates for the same office are Joseph Marshall of West Salem, Abel Moore of Onalaska, E. H. Derr, George D. Wright and Herman Roessler.

ROELLIG TAKES OATH OF OFFICE

William P. Roellig, who was elected alderman in the Eleventh ward on the republican ticket to succeed Alderman Fred Siegel, took his oath of office before City Clerk Siegel yesterday and will take his seat in the council at the next regular meeting in May. William Collins, who was re-elected in the Twelfth ward, has also qualified.

Free Sample
For Baby's Ills

Something can and must be done for the puny, crying baby, for the child that refuses to eat and is restless in its sleep. And since the basis of all health is the proper working of the digestive organs, look first to the condition of the stomach and bowels.

A child should have two full and free movements of the bowels a day. This emptying of the bowels is very important, as with it comes a clear head, a lightness of step, good appetite and sound sleep. But it is equally important to know what to give the child in the emergency of constipation and indigestion. Cathartics are too strong and salts and other purgatives are not only too strong, but the child refuses them because of their bad taste. Have you ever tried Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin? It is a liquid tonic that families have been using for a quarter of a century. It is mild, pleasant-tasting and promptly effective. It is good for you as well as the child, but there is nothing better to be found for children. They like its taste—you will not have to force them to take it.

First of all, if you have not yet used it, Dr. Caldwell would like to send you a sample bottle free of charge. In this way you can try it before buying. Later, when convinced of its merits, you can get it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as thousands of other families are doing. The family of Mr. D. W. Spangler of Strattonville, Pa., as well as that of Mr. A. F. Johnson of Walnut Grove, Tenn., started with it in that way and now write that it is their one family necessity next to food itself. If you are unfortunate enough to have a sickly child, one given to constipation and indigestion, you should send for a free sample of this remedy.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 524 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Dropsy— Given up by Doctor

"I had dropsy, and was told by my family physician that there was no chance for me. My family also gave me up. My limbs and body were swollen one-third larger than natural, water collected around my heart and I had to be propped up in bed to keep from smothering. I took Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy until I was entirely cured. This was in 1902, and I am now able to do any kind of work on my farm. My cure was certainly marvelous."

L. TURLEY CURD, Wilmore, Ky.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy has been wonderfully successful in relieving heart trouble. Its tonic effect upon the heart nerves and muscles is a great factor in assisting nature to overcome heart weakness.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is sold by all druggists. If the first bottle does not benefit, your druggist will return your money.

JANESVILLE MAN ACCEPTS A CALL

Rev. William P. Christy Is to Become Pastor of the English Lutheran Church Here

B. F. Keeler, secretary of the English Lutheran church, has received a letter from Rev. William P. Christy of Janesville, Wis., stating that he had accepted the call extended him by the local congregation and that he would be here to take charge of the pulpit on June 15. Rev. Mr. Christy was here about three weeks ago to preach several sermons, after which the congregation extended him a call. At that time he said he did not know whether or not he would accept but the letter received by Mr. Keeler is to the effect that he had changed his mind and decided to come to La Crosse. Rev. Mr. Christy has been pastor of St. Peter's English Evangelical Lutheran church in Janesville for seven years and the congregation is one of the strongest in that city.

The average man would rather be blown up by his wife than by an automobile.

A UNIVERSAL FOOD Following Nature's Footsteps

"I have a boy, two years old, weighing forty pounds, in perfect health who has been raised on Grape-Nuts and milk.

"This is an ideal food and evidently furnishes the elements necessary for a baby as well as for adults. We have used Grape-Nuts in large quantities and greatly to our advantage."

One advantage about Grape-Nuts food is that it is pre-digested in the process of manufacture; that is, the starch contained in the wheat and barley is transformed into a form of sugar by the same method as this process is carried out in the human body, that is, by the use of moisture and long exposure to moderate warmth, which grows the diastase in the grains and makes the remarkable change from starch to sugar.

Therefore, the most delicate stomach can handle Grape-Nuts and the food is quickly absorbed into the blood and tissue, certain parts of it going directly to building and nourishing the brain and nerve centers.

RED FIRE DON'T AWE PEOPLE NOW

Gov. Marshall of Indiana Says He Is Not a Candidate, but Expresses His Views

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 19.—"Gray matter instead of red lights are solving the questions of the times. Party lines were never so loose as now. People are thinking for themselves. That is the reason political campaigns are becoming less spectacular."

Disregarding the opposition within his own party to his plan to have next week's democratic state convention "nominate a party candidate" for United States senator, Gov. Thomas R. Marshall today insisted that such action is necessary. Delegates representing every election district, chosen from the people are, in his opinion, better fitted to settle upon than legislators who have incurred political obligations and who are actuated more by party policy than anything else in voting for United States senator. And in his declaration, Marshall absolutely eliminated himself as a candidate. He reiterated his declaration that he cannot be a candidate for any position at this time and in explanation said:

"A man cannot be of service to his employer if he is spending most of his time seeking a new job. I was elected governor for four years and the people of Indiana, my employers, demand my best services. This puts me out of the running for any other office."

Marshall admits the talk of his nomination for the presidency is pleasing but he believes issues to be raised in the political campaign in Indiana should be national because the re-election of Senator Beveridge is at stake. Beveridge while it means to an end, Marshall insists, consists in partly deceiving the people and he and his friends are trying to influence the state convention to a clear cut declaration on this line.

"The so-called republican insurgent would have us believe that protection is not a question of principle but of degree," he said. "Yet larceny is larceny. If it is wrong to steal a team of horses it is wrong to steal a single horse."

The issue here in Indiana and I believe in the next national campaign must be a plain one of protection on one hand and revenue on the other."

MEMBERS TO GIVE ENTERTAINMENT

On Thursday evening, April 21, the Fraternal Reserve will give a literary and musical entertainment. The members are to take part and make this a fine and interesting program. All of the members have the privilege of inviting a friend. After the program all present will be entertained by dancing. A short business session will be held before the program, at which a large class of candidates will be initiated, this being the fourteenth successive class of the season. The following program will be given:

Piano Duet—The Witches Slight—Maud Boyd and Mrs. Edw. Dow.

Reading—Katrina's Visit to New York—Ella Marie Forsythe.

Vocal solo—Meet Me Tonight in Dreamland—B. Helen Mayer.

Piano and mandolin duet—The Palms—Maud Wallace and A. C. Radke.

Baritone solo—Selected—Emil Niemeyer.

Serenade Badine—F. R. A. Mandolin club.

The last number on the program will be given by a sketch artist and cartoonist.

FATES FAVOR DR. HYDE; IMPORTANT WITNESS IS DEAD

slum in Dr. Hyde's office was explained by the statement that he used this to poison cockroaches.

"We will show that Dr. Hektoen, the scientist violated every rule of holding autopsies by dissecting the body of Col. Swope when it was frozen. He filled it with hot water to thaw it out, an act that destroyed the chemical balance. He secretly removed the organs outside the jurisdiction of the Missouri courts. These experts were employed at $100 to $200 a day to find poison. They found it but the whole system of this old man was poisoned with uraemia."

Attorney Walsh claimed Mrs. Logan Swope was hostile toward Dr. Hyde. He explained conditions of the drinking water, about the Swope home, saying it was contaminated and the family infected with typhus from a little colored girl who lived in a cabin nearby. The bacilli found, he said, were used by Dr. Hyde in vaccinating persons to prevent disease. The charge that Hyde poisoned the family with germs in the drinking water on Thanksgiving day was denied. Dr. Hyde was at a football game in Kansas City, he said.

Probate Clerk Cogswell, of Independence will be the first witness in the stand and will be called to the stand at 2 o'clock this afternoon to identify the will.

Chief Witness Dead

When Attorney Frank P. Walsh took his place before the jury and began outlining the grounds on which he will expect the jury to return a verdict of acquittal. As he turned the jury and the court of the alleged entering of the Swope vault after the colonel's body had been placed there, the evidence he believed to be conclusive that someone had injected poison into the body after death, he knew there was no one in the state's array of witnesses who could take the stand and swear positively that Dr. Hyde had given Col. Swope the poison causing his death. There is no one who can swear positively that Colonel Moss Huntun was bled to death for Dr. G. T. Twyman, physician and confidant of the Swope family and the only person who could swear to this, is dead. With the passing of Dr. Twyman late yesterday the lips that might have unfolded a story showing Dr. Hyde as the murderer of Colonel Swope and Colonel Huntun and as a fortune hunter seeking to wipe out an entire family in order to possess their inheritance, were still.

Knew All Facts

Dr. Twyman attended the Swope's during the period they were said to have been victims of Dr. Hyde's wholesale poison plot. It was expected that he would give testimony that he found Miss Margaret Swope at the point of death from cyanide poisoning a few minutes after she took medicine from a box handled by Dr. Hyde. It was through Dr. Twyman that the state hoped to establish that Dr. Hyde was accused of irregularity in practice and that his conduct was such that it amounted to evidence against him. He was relied upon to show that Dr. Hyde's bleeding of Col. Huntun was over the protest of a fellow practitioner and that he drew two quarts of blood from the weakened man and then only stopped when forced to. Dr. Twyman's testimony would have been both expert and direct, but the state must now rely almost solely upon circumstantial evidence.

In his opening address this morning Attorney Walsh laid great stress on the theory that the poison was introduced into Col. Swope's body after death. He said:

Postmortem Poisoning

"Cyanide of potassium may have been put in Col. Swope's body either in the vault, in the catacombs, or in the morgue. The state refuses to allow the defense any portion of the body for an analysis.

"Chicago scientists who examined the viscera discredit themselves by making a report in conflict with the facts. The defense holds that Col. Swope used alcoholic drinks for 25 years before his death and because of this his liver was cirrhotic. It is well known in pathology that a man must have cirrhosis in some degree after years of use of alcohol. This condition explains while, if Col. Swope died of strychnine poisoning, the effect was belated. For months Col. Swope habitually took a strychnine tonic to stimulate the heart. The use made by Hyde of culture tubes of bacilli of typhoid and diphtheria was legitimate experimentation. Dr. Hyde used his best judgment in bleeding Moss Huntun and did not purposely bleed him to death. The defendant did not poison Col. Swope, Chrisman Swope or Margaret Swope and did not inoculate any members of the family with bacilli. All these charges grow out of malice, envy and unfounded suspicion. They are based upon the manufactured evidence of paid detectives."

Maine state republican committee. The letter mailed yesterday will reach Boyd this evening and will be given out by him tomorrow morning. The senator declined to make any statement.

Bryan is "Reconciled"

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.—"I think many people will feel about it as a man once expressed himself regarding the death of a man with whom he radically differed," said Wm. J. Bryan today, when asked to comment upon the reported retirement of Senator Aldrich.

"While one ought not to rejoice in another's death, yet this is one of those dispensations of providence to which one can easily reconcile himself."

Bryan, who arrived today to appear before the house committee on insular affairs, met the democratic leaders, and "talked politics." He declared he did not intend to become a candidate for United States senator.

"Indications point to growth in the democratic strength," he said, "and I hope it is going to be sufficient to carry the house. Then I hope that, if the house is democratic in name, it will be democratic in fact, so that the party can work harmoniously in preparing a democratic program."

Bryan expressed gratification at the insurgent victory in the rules fight.

Regarding the "free silver" reference in his Jefferson Day letter, he said the criticism of it was unwarranted, adding:

"The republicans should not begrudge us our pleasure in their president being compelled to admit that scarcity of money made low prices," he said. "The responsibility for present high prices, lies mainly with the tariff and the trusts."

WATER TAPPER SMITH RESIGNS

Declines to Accept Re-appointment for Another Year when Offered It

City Water Tapper James Smith, who has been in charge of the water department for ten years, has resigned his position, announcing to the board of public works that he would not accept a re-appointment for another year.

The annual meeting of the board was held today and when Mr. Smith was informed that he would be re-appointed he declined to accept. This is done, it is said, because of the fact that the salary paid by the city is not equal to that paid a first class plumber by a private firm. Mr. Smith will remain, however, until his successor is named.

AN UP-TO-DATE DRUGGIST

says it is surprising how many old-fashioned remedies are being used, which goes to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old, time-tried remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy, nothing equaling our grandmothers' "sage tea" has ever been discovered. Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old-fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer. Nowadays when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garden or garret for herbs and making the "tea" ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. This preparation is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

labor class, a reorganization of municipal finances, a municipal survey to make possible the establishment of a sound economic system, placing of an expert in charge of public works, cleaner street cars and shorter hours for its employees, regulation of saloons, an abolishment of sinecures such as water registrar, superintendent of bridges, a new isolation hospital, and a municipal electric light plant are the special phases of the message.

Mayor Seidel said in part:

"The workers of our city are its most valuable asset. Your attention should be directed to the passage of such measures as will promote the well being of this class of citizens, safeguard health, check any tendency to encroach upon such few rights as the workers still enjoy, and wherever possible extend for them the opportunities of life."

ADMINISTRATION AS GUARDIAN

"In this direction a number of steps can be taken. The administration should constantly watch over the condition prevailing in factories, workshops and places of employment with regard to sanitation. There should at all times be a full and hearty co-operation with state factory inspectors in the enforcement of measures providing for industrial hygiene."

CONTRACTS TO BE LET BY THE CITY

"Contracts to be let by the city are awarded to the lowest bidder. This does not preclude the right of the city as a corporation to demand compliance with certain specifications. In contracts to be let by the city, the specifications should provide for hours of labor that are not exhausting, that leave a margin of time for rest and development. Such specifications should also provide for sufficient light and ventilation; they should prohibit child labor and properly protect woman labor and prevent the imposition upon workers of degrading conditions."

APPEALS TO REASON

"The city has police powers enabling it to enforce the ordinance which makes the carrying of concealed weapons unlawful. This ordinance should be strictly enforced. Our population is law abiding and well able to handle its own affairs. The practice of bringing armed hirelings into the city of Milwaukee to mingle with a population that is peace loving, has cost loss of life and should be stopped. Our difficulties should be settled by appeals to reason."

PROPER ACTION LOOKING TOWARD THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A BUREAU OF MUNICIPAL RESEARCH SHOULD IMMEDIATELY BE TAKEN.

An expert should be called in to advise with you on this subject. The first object of this bureau should be to make a municipal survey to furnish accurate and adequate knowledge of social, industrial and economic conditions leading to specific and practicable plans for city betterment."

"YOUR ATTENTION IS CALLED TO THE INCOMPETENCY, APPARENT EVEN TO A CASUAL OBSERVER, WITH WHICH PUBLIC WORK HAS BEEN DONE. Albert Wolter Looks with Fear on Box in Court which May Contain Girl's Bones

NEW YORK, April 19.—A full jury to try Albert Wolter for the alleged murder of little Ruth Wheeler was sworn in this afternoon. Eleven men had been accepted when court adjourned for lunch and the twelfth was accepted as soon as court resumed.

When the jury had been sworn, two court officers brought in a new trunk and there was a rumor that it contained the charred bones of the murdered girl. Wolter seemed nervous when the trunk was brought in and his nervousness increased when the rumor as to its contents reached his ears.

Assistant District Attorney Moss declined to say what was in the trunk, stating that that would come out at the trial.

Assistant District Attorney Moss formally opened for the state. For half an hour he recited the facts he said the state would prove and during every second of the time young Wolter sat, half leaning forward in his chair, supporting his head with his hand, and watching intently the expression on the faces of the jury.

SEASON'S "CATCH" MARRIED AMERICAN

The dresses are short, ending three inches from the floor. One of the novelties is the high shoes of blue satin to be worn by the bridesmaids instead of the usual slippers, and the big blue straw hats, wreathed in pink tulle and finished off with a big bow of tulle and a smashing pink ostrich plume which stands straight up from the back in the new Chanticleer fashion. The maid of honor's gown will be exactly like those of the bridesmaids, except that the colors are reversed.

GO TO LONDON.

The bridegroom will be attended by his brother, Armstrong Drexel. A dozen different reports are in circulation as to where the young people will spend their honeymoon. It is announced, however, that they will turn up in London in time to be present at the wedding of Miss Marguerita Drexel, sister of the bridegroom, to Viscount Maidstone next June.

The list of guests at today's function includes the most prominent names in New York and Philadelphia society, with a sprinkling of English nobility.

men at the power house are overworked. These men work in twelve hour shifts and their exhaustion is frequently directly concerned with breakdowns that block traffic an hour or more at a time. Reliable information is also at hand indicating that many street car accidents are caused, not only by incompetent men, because through lack of proper pay the best men cannot be retained, but also because street car men are overworked, exhausted and not in condition to give the effort asked of them.

"The overcrowding of cars is a menace to health and decency and as its regulation comes within the police powers of the city of Milwaukee steps should at once be taken to remedy the evil."

"The question of the saloon is one that has been and is extensively agitated. In our city the saloon is regulated under the license system. The saloonkeeper who conducts a clean and respectable place should be protected. While the law prohibits the sale of intoxicating drinks to minors and this law should be enforced, at the same time it should be made a misdemeanor for anyone to induce a minor to obtain liquor in the false pretenses."

"On the other hand the issuance of a license to sell liquor cannot carry with it the permission to maintain a house of ill fame or in any way to abet licentiousness. I have been informed that in many instances in which licenses to sell liquor have been refused to keepers of houses of ill fame intoxicating drinks are nevertheless dispensed. This information also states that the practice prevails in assignment houses to include in exchange for the price of a room a supply of liquor. Your attention is called to the subversion of the law in this matter."

"It appears that in the past there have been offices created chiefly to supply salaried positions to the incumbents thereof. It happens that often one man covers the same ground and does the same class of work as another man and each under different titles draws separate salaries."

He then recommends the consolidation of several offices.

Backache Means Dying Kidneys

Remarkable Treatment That Saves the Kidneys. How you May Cure Yourself Quickly and Thoroughly.

With the progress of science comes one remarkable treatment for kidney diseases. It has been so thoroughly tested and its results have proven so revolutionary that a well-known firm in Michigan has undertaken its distribution into every part of the country.

Those who suffer from kidney trouble and the diseases resulting from it will be pleased to know that every package of this treatment is thoroughly guaranteed. This should assure at last a positive cure to every sufferer.

Every man and woman should know that backache is usually a well-defined symptom of advancing kidney disease which may end fatally unless treated in time; that rheumatism and bladder trouble are caused from nothing more nor less than kidneys that do not filter the poison from the blood; that dropsy, Bright's disease, diabetes and bladder-stones are caused by bad kidneys.

Once they are made to work properly, these diseases should quickly disappear.

This is done by the new treatment, Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills.

We urge everyone who has pain in the small of the back, profuse or scanty urination, pains in the bladder, cloudy or foul urine, not to fail to get a package today of Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills, and drop all other kidney treatments.

Sensor Stevenson of Washington, writes from Olympia: "There is no question about the efficacy of Dr. Derby's Pure Kidney Pills in curing kidney and bladder trouble. I know whereof I speak."

Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills are now sold at all drug stores—50 pills—10 days' treatment—25 cents. If you would like to try them first, ask your druggist for a free sample package. Then buy a package; you will not regret it.

LEGAL LIGHTS ARGUE ON FISHING RIGHTS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—An array of legal talent which has seldom been brought together will argue out before The Hague the controversy between United States and Great Britain over the fishing rights under the treaty of 1818. This is especially significant, as it is the first issue of great importance which has ever been presented to the great peace tribunal. The issue of greatest importance is the determination of the right of a colony or province, such as Canada or Newfoundland, by local legislation, to deprive persons of rights conferred by treaty between the principals. It is to determine the true intent conveyed in the treaty of 1818, which defined the right of Americans and Canadians in their respective waters. The argument will take place on June 1.

LABORERS STRIKE AT VALIER WORKS

The contractors in charge of the irrigation works at Valier, Mont., in which the Cargill interests are heavily interested, are experiencing some labor troubles. About 30 laborers have quit work, according to reports received here, the men claiming the wages were too small. The contractors have been paying $2.25 for ten hours' work and charged 75 cents straight per day for board. It is reported that the strike caused the shut-down of four large steam shovels which were at work on the ditches. Other men are taking the places of the strikers.

OZONE IN CITIES BY ELECTRICITY

Fight Against Foul Air where Humanity Swarms Has a New Ingenious Weapon

CHICAGO, April 19.—Electricity has been set to making seaside air for congested cities, the same breath of ozone that lures millions to the country, the seaside and the mountains. Turn a switch and an ozone breeze is started in a crowded school, church, office or bank that has the vitalizing quality of the fresh air of the big outdoors.

Right on the eve of the vacation season those of us who have no expectation of going to the sea breeze, the mountain air or the country can expect to have the sea breeze, the mountain air or the country freshness brought to us. With bad air the worst foe of the people in the cities, worse than impure water or food, there is import in this latest achievement of our best servant, Electricity, which runs into billions in money and millions in lives.

Over in Europe this thing has been done after a fashion for several years. Uncle Sam is likely to catch up however in a hurry because the main problems of scientists and electrical engineers in producing ozonized air have been solved by Yankee ingenuity differently and better—those of ozonizing vast quantities of air quickly and by an instantaneous contact of oxygen and electricity at high voltage. The Yankee method, known as the "Vohr method" carries the generation of ozone a step farther than European methods have done. It employs a new principle in electrical manufacture, that of charging a fan with electricity, this fan discharging a cold violet glow in a ring, in passing through which the air is cleaned and energized by the addition of ozone. Tests have shown that the same effect is silently produced as when a lightning flash "cleans the air" during an April thunder shower. The product is the same thing that largely explains the stamina of the country bred man when he reaches the city—ozone which he lived in as a boy.

As a matter of fact, ozone has been known to scientists since 1840 when Professor Schoenbein of Basle, Switzerland, discovered it. The European scientists have devoted considerable time to its study, with a view to making it of some service to the world at large. Europe is in the lead of the United States in this respect, having a number of ozone making methods which are in extensive use in hotels, theaters, churches, factories, offices, stores, public buildings and homes.

Until the last few years however American scientists, although admitting the great value of the manufactured as well as the natural ozone, made little use of it except as a germicide and deodorant, it being especially effective for such purposes.

With the development of cheap electrical power, however, the ozonizer as a commercial proposition became practical, and American inventive genius was called upon to get busy. A number of different varieties of ideas were developed, the evolution of which produced the Vohr electrical ozonizer, which is now at practical work in the task of converting foul air into the same kind one sniffs at the seaside or on top of Pike's Peak. It does this by the electrical shock to the two atoms of oxygen, not only shaking them apart but producing a third atom. The third atom is the rover that does

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. the business. The Vohr machine is simplicity itself; attached to an electric light socket with the switch turned the current, in a glowing ring, is silently discharged into the atmosphere. It is that cold violet glow that does the work, and does it in a jiffy. One can pick up the machine and take it where most needed.

Europe, with its two years' start, has made great strides which outline the Herculean task set for ozone in the United States in cleaning the Augean stables of the cities, air which has been breathed and rebreathed by a thousand persons in varying degrees of health, and filled with dust and filth and gases. The war against tuberculosis takes on new and definite promise of great progress. What has been accomplished and what tasks ozone has been set to cope with abroad shows the scope of the field opened by the success of the Vohr method.

DETROIT BEATS ST. LOUIS BROWNS

Bailey's Weakening in the Eighth Round Responsible; Raining in the Other Cities

The incessant downpour of rain in six of the cities where major league ball was to have been played yesterday afternoon, caused the managers to let Jupiter Pluvius have the grounds to themselves and the games were postponed. In the National league the games between Chicago and Cincinnati, St. Louis and Pittsburgh, Boston and New York and Brooklyn and Philadelphia were postponed. In the American the Chicago-Cleveland, the Boston-Washington, and the New York-Philadelphia games were put off.

DETROIT defeated the St. Louis Browns by a score of 3 to 2 in a good game. Bailey pitched ball until the eighth, when an error by Wallace on Stanage's grounder seemed to unsteady him. He passed two men with two out, and Cobb tied the score with a double. In the ninth he walked Crawford and Delehanty hit for three bases. Mullin was hit hard at the start and was wild throughout, but good fielding saved him. The day was cold and rain threatened throughout.

MILWAUKEE FANS THREATEN KILLIAN

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 19.—The case of Ray Saveland, the local baseball player who has been kept out of the game this spring through the dilatory tactics by the baseball managements of Green Bay and Winona may assume more serious complications as friends of the player here threaten to take hold of it and see why he should be prevented from playing ball. It seems that in the first place the Green Bay club had promised Saveland his release providing he could get a better berth in a larger league.

Saveland tried and secured a place with Macon in the south at $175 a month. When it came time to do business, however, he was notified that he still belonged to Green Bay and that Macon would have to buy his release. Then Green Bay turned around and sold him to Winona for $150. Saveland notified Manager Joe Killian that he would not play in Winona for the salary offered—$125 a month—and only 3 1/2 month's season as it would not be worth his while, to quit his job for that length of time.

Then Killian, so Saveland claims to have letters to prove, offered him his release for the $150 he paid for him, but when Macon was ready to pay the price Winona refused. Rockford offered to buy his release at the same price and pay him more money, but he was given to understand that he would be blacklisted by the powers that be if he did not report to Winona. Saveland would have a position of 4 1-2 months in the W.-L. league and five months down south and at much better wages, but he cannot go to either because Winona holds him, having bought him like a sack of flour from Green Bay.

Now Saveland says he might as well be blacklisted as to go to the "Minn" league, as he would not be able to make over $440 for the entire season and would then be out a good job at the end of the season. This is one case where the young ball player does not get much chance to advance—nothing but promises.

ROLLER TO TRAIN FOR S. ZBYSKO

CHICAGO, April 19.—Dr. Roller, the Seattle physician-wrestler who stayed with Stanislaus Zbyszko for 2 hours and 15 minutes without either getting a fall and who will meet him again in a finish match at the Coliseum one week from Friday night, will soon be in this city to do his training for the match. Jack Curley, Roller's manager, writes that Roller has fully recovered from the injuries sustained in his match with Mahmoud in Kansas City and that he will be in grand condition when he faces the Pole here. Jack is not in the least discouraged in Roller and says he has $500 which he will bet that Roller gains one fall from Zbyszko.

GOTCH STARTS TO WORK FOR POLE

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 19.—Road work and real heavy training stunts was begun by Champion Frank Gotch today in preparation for his coming match with Zbyszko for the world's wrestling championship.

In addition to working at the Minneapolis Athletic club and going on the mat with Henry Ordeman several times a week, Gotch has planned a series of cross country runs which he believes will serve to put him in prime condition.

JEFF SAYS JACK IS TOO YELLOW

Which Statement Means that He Considers the Black No Better than the Other Fighters

SAYS LANGFORD IS BETTER

Calls Him a Game Scrapper; Papke Arrives to Assist in the Training until His Thomas Bout

(By the Ringsider—Max Balthasar)
ROWARDENNAN, Cal., April 19.—Here's a secret. Jeffries does not look upon Johnson as any more formidable than any other fighter he has licked before. He let this slip today when he intimated that Jack has a streak inside of him much the color of his golden smile only duller.

"I'm getting into fine condition," he said. "I can smash that bag time after time without missing."

Then, suddenly changing the topic he said, "Sam Langford is a game little scrapper. I think he is better than the 'other fellow.'"

Jeff always refers to Johnson as the other fellow.

Papke arrived today at the camp and will go into training. He will do his training here and Jeffries expects to get all the exercise he wants with Billy until time for the Billy Papke-Joe Thomas fight.

Jeffries said that he had referred the referee matter to Berger and Sam passed the buck by saying the matter could not be settled until May 4. On that date the scrappers, their managers and he promoters of the big fight will meet to discuss the referee question. Although Jeffries is not training continuous he is not taking that work as seriously as when he was getting into condition to meet Corbett, Fitzsimmons and the other big fellows. He works hard but he has unbounded confidence in his ability to whip Johnson.

The big fellow has shown great enthusiasm and tackled his work roughly after receiving word from Oakland that his wife is recovering rapidly from her operation and would be out of the hospital in two weeks.

GLEASON SAYS WELSH

CHICAGO, April 19.—It begins to look like Jack Johnson struck the right note when he said he would insist on Jack Welsh as referee for the big fight on July 4.

Jack Gleason today said he agreed with Johnson and would favor the selection of Welsh. Gleason is fearful that the question of selecting a referee will cause a disagreement between Jeffries and Johnson. He says he is confident that Jeffries will accept Welsh.

On account of the rain and cold weather Johnson has quit boxing but continues his road work. He and his staff of trainers will leave for the coast Thursday.

Frank Burns, Greatest One-Armed Player in Country, Plays Two Exhibitions in City Today

Frank Burns, the famous one-armed pool player, is in La Crosse today and will give two exhibitions of his skill. At 4 o'clock this afternoon and at 8 o'clock this evening Mr. Burns will appear at the Bodega zeka between trains Monday.

Allan Lathrop has been sick. Ernest Briggs of Soldiers' Grove spent Sunday with his brothers Earl and Lee.

Otto White of Liberty Pole spent the past week in the village.

Mrs. Sam Martner of Prairie du Chien, visited at the home of E. G. Briggs last week.

Clark Rounds transacted business in Lynxville Thursday.

Landis Kast has been quite sick, but is better.

Tom Triggs, Frank Linscum and Everett Vreeland went to Ferryville Friday after two car loads of cows which Mr. Triggs had shipped to that point from St. Paul.

Charley Davis has moved into the house recently vacated by George Sampson.

Mike Heisz spent last week at Steuben.

Chas. Miller and Neil Kimmel of Belle Center were callers in town on Monday.

Robt. Collins went to Ferryville Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rowe visited at the Scanlon residence Monday.

PRINCIPALS IN SOUTH AMERICAN TROUBLE

FRANK BURNS

Annex in exhibitions of fancy shooting, finger ball work, straight pool and all the tricks of which a world champion is capable.

Burns is a small lad, but has defeated some of the best two armed players in the country, and many places has been completed to Willie Hoppe and others for his cleverness. He has played in St. Paul and throughout Iowa only recently and at Waterloo made a high run of 69 balls in continuous pool.

After his exhibitions Mr. Burns will challenge any players in the city to a contest. He has been defeated only twice since the first of the year, and despite the fact strange tables often are encountered he is willing to test his skill against the best players the city affords.

CAR STRIKERS RETURN
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 18.—Union conductors and motormen of Philadelphia who have been on strike for two months, voted to reject the compromise offer made by the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, but the Amalgamated Car Men's Association has ordered them to accept the terms and call off the strike. The company agrees to take back as many of the strikers as possible and to pay the others $2 a day until they are given regular runs.

I've seen lots of money thrown over a bar, but I never say any of it bounce back.

WORKS MAFIA PLOT FROM FRISON CELL

CHICAGO, April 19.—Threatened from within the walls of a prison by a blackhand is the experience of Dr. B. H. Chamberlin.

Eddie English, paroled convict, who was arrested three weeks ago on the eve of an elaborate holdup campaign against wealthy Chicagoans, is believed to have used his prison quarters and Red Nell McCarthy, an associate who often visited him as his emissary. The letter received by Chamberlin is written in true mafia style, but after working for three days the federal authorities and Postoffice Inspector Stewart have concluded that the prisoner now in the county jail has attempted another of his elaborate schemes.

SNOW HURTS FRUIT IN THE EAST, TOO

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 19.—Fear for grain and fruit crops prevails throughout the state today following a genuine mid-winter snow, which in many counties continued until this morning. The snow was followed by a decided drop in temperature. Telephone and telegraph services sustained considerable damage from broken wires.

The man who isn't capable of giving advice always has the habit.

COOK CALLS THE TARIFF LAW GOOD

Makes Announcement of His Candidacy that He May Restore Peace
to the Party

NEENAH, Wis., April 19.—Samuel A. Cook, who is put up by the Stalwarts and reactionary interests, in an effort to defeat Robert M. La Follette for re-election to the United States senate, makes announcement of his platform. Mr. Cook comes out unqualifiedly for protective tariff, and asks for that sort of regulation of corporations which will not "endanger" the big interests or the country's industries. He announces himself in favor of conservation, and all of the principles of republicanism as indicated and enacted by the present congress.

He says he supports the republican platform unqualifiedly and will support, if elected, the policies of McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft.

He says he believes in enforcement of all laws and a constructive policy, but does not favor destructive revolutionary experiments which might confuse the financial, industrial and economic systems.

He says he believes in government by party and in the intelligent conservation of resources. He stands against wanton waste in timber and unlawful conveyance of the timber to private parties, believing instead in distribution of the public domain under the homestead laws. His other stands in regard to conservation are a matter of following the laws that exist.

He says he believes in improving the waterways, the lakes to the gulf waterway and the Mississippi river, to permit the highest commercial use. Mr. Cook also has a word on agriculture, calculated to get the farmer. In the next paragraph he announces himself for legislation working for the betterment of the wage earners, and declares the republican party already has taken big steps in this direction. He believes the government should frame laws which will enable it to assist the people in times of financial trouble, and believes by legislation panics can be made impossible at the hands of speculators.

He comes out unqualifiedly for "ness" and industrial expansion, but says corporations should be so controlled and regulated as to prevent monopoly and give to every citizen an equal opportunity. He says he will favor further anti-trust laws to strengthen the government in its fight in this direction.

He comes out unqualifiedly for protection, declaring "we must nationalize our protective tariff laws in the broadest and most comprehensive sense if we shall do our duty to the whole country." He cites the fact that opponents of the protective tariff on the one occasion when they were successful brought a panic upon the country. He did not go into any detail to show that the money power is so centralized and controlled at the present time that it is possible at any moment for these interests to paralyze industry and bring about a panic at their will.

Mr. Cook says new foes have arisen to the protective tariff and that their demand for further reduction of the schedules is "inspired by political selfishness of a few leaders supported by press that has equally selfish interests at stake. So far have they drifted away from true republican principles that we have found it necessary to assume a new name. They call themselves 'progressives' to distinguish themselves from republicans, yet they advocate the 'reactionary' theories of the tariff reformers of earlier days." He says he believes the present tariff law the best ever enacted.

He believes also in laws for the regulation of interstate and foreign commerce.

In conclusion, he says, if elected, he will do his best to protect the interests of Wisconsin, and that he will not become a party to any bitter personal controversies. He says he wants to be senator, not for himself, but for service "to restore political peace and to aid in securing good government, being free from official entanglements or factional alliances."

TARIFF THE ISSUE IN ELECTION TODAY

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 19.—The workingmen's opinion of the new tariff law is being recorded. The tariff has been made the real issue in the special congressional election in progress here today to choose the successor to the late James B. Perkins. This is one of the strongest manufacturing districts in the country and the line of demarcation is closely drawn.

The democratic candidate, James H. Havens, has publicly declared himself to work, if elected, for a "tariff for revenue only," while Geo. W. Aldrich, the republican aspirant, declares that the new tariff law is exactly what the republican platform promised the people.

With the issue clearly defined, it is admitted the verdict here will give a better line on the viewpoint of the laboring man than either the recent Missouri or Massachusetts elections.

PEDIGREED DAMES FIGHT EACH OTHER

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.—Calling the insurgents "pernicious microbes" Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, who, in turn, is charged with "Cannibalism" and "personal domination," plunged into the thick of political battle today in an effort to win for her faction the nine vice presidents-general, who are to be elected tomorrow.

Mrs. William Cumming Story of New York, leader of the insurgents, met Mrs. Scott half way. She and her followers were in evidence in all the caucuses and on every side was the evidence of a strong lineup on each side.

"Our cause has gathered great strength during the last year," said Mrs. Story today, "and we are now in a position to assume control of the convention."

SKULL CRACKED SOLVING MYSTERY

CHICAGO, April 19.—A mystery which has cost the Indiana Steel company at Gary between $20,000 and $30,000 in three days and rendered hundreds of employees idle was solved at midnight in the finding of John Parrygold unconscious at the entrance to a concrete tunnel leading under the power house. Parrygold was suffering from a fractured skull and on being revived declared he had solved the mystery and that his skull had been fractured by a man whom he had detected meddling with the electrical plant.

Investigation revealed how the complete tie-up of the plant had been accomplished. An iron bar had been laid across the two main bus-bars copper rods, causing a short circuit and rendering the whole plant useless.

The man who thanks you for calling his attention to an error he has made is a hypocrite, and he knows it.

The Danger Trail

A Novel of Outdoor Love and Adventure

An unceasingly thrilling narrative of a young civil engineer who goes up into the country of the great snows to build a railroad to Hudson Bay. Never a moment that isn't breathless with interest.

All the virtues of a corking good short story of adventure belong to this full-sized romance.—Memphis News-Scimitar.

Readers who find enjoyment in strong, vital fiction of the north will be deeply interested in Mr. Curwood's exciting story.—Indianapolis News.

The impression of impending danger is conveyed at the start, the mystery keeps the reader puzzled till it is solved, and the incidents, though startling, are simple and natural and follow on one another with remarkable logic.—New York Sun.

There is no end of thrills in this exceedingly lively story of hair-breadth escapes.—Brooklyn Standard-Union.

The author has crowded in action as though he feared he might not live to write another book.—Springfield Republican.

The public has reason to be grateful to Mr. Curwood for quickened pulses.—Ohio State Journal.

It is all vivid, sharp, dynamic.—Grand Rapids News.

A rattling good yarn of mystery and adventure.—The Bookman.

The Danger Trail will fix Mr. Curwood's reputation for all time among the lovers of outdoor love-and-adventure stories.

LINER CANNOT BE SAVED, SAY EXPERTS

LONDON, April 19.—Expert wreckers today made a careful examination of the Atlantic transport liner Minnehaha, stranded on Bishop's Rock, and said there was little chance of the vessel being refloated. Her hold is almost entirely filled with water and she seems hard and fast on the rocks.

The passengers who were taken ashore in the early hours of Monday morning reached London this morning from the port, the mail steamer Lyonesse landing them. They were a disheveled looking group, minus most of their personal effects.

The work of salvaging the cargo of the Minnehaha is still progressing but it will be impossible to remove a lot of the heavier freight.
